

The Insult of Technology by Charlie Poet 2/12/19

Why aren't we all at the beach? I declare every household in America should be at the beach, or simply having a picnic in the nearest forest preserve. So why aren't we? Nevermind the cold.

Why aren't robots doing all the work while we enjoy our lives? Otherwise, what good is it? Weren't we promised such things, and more; in cartoons and science class as children, even by presidents? Where is my flying car? <https://www.sheila.media/?s=flying+car> Where is my robot maid/cook? <https://www.sheila.media/?s=robot+maid> I don't want a "sex bot," I want real sex with someone I love, don't you? Why are we all so broke and unhealthy? Why are we always at work? This is absurd! Why does all this fantastic "technology" seem like weapons pointed at us? Mandatory vaccines, are you kidding? The answer is emphatically NO, they are not kidding. <https://www.sheila.media/?s=mandatory+vaccines> TECHNOGEDDON is right!

Technology was supposed to improve our lives not entrap us, and that's exactly what the Technogeddon is, a wicked techno-trap. Sure we were lured in with big dreams of computers, robots, sophisticated machines and flying saucers doing all the work; that's how they stole our money. We thought, as kids anyway, we would be flown around to cozy destinations while we sleep, or that "Rosie" the house-bot would be doing the shopping and washing the dog. Did I watch the Jetsons as a child? YES. But it was never just cartoons pushing this propaganda, it was and still is everywhere. NASA says we are going to Mars soon. Who is WE? What if I told you going to Mars is physically impossible, even with the best technology in the world, would you research flat earth? You most certainly should. Question Everything!

How about all that life-saving technology we were supposed to have? Sure you can argue there have been great advances in the medical field. But whom is benefitting and at whose cost? It certainly hasn't helped people the way they said it would. Illegally cutting out the heart of an 8 year old child in sub-Saharan Africa, or Mexico, or Iowa, lets say, and trafficking it to a psychopath eugenicist pedophile billionaire in the Caribbean doesn't seem "balanced," as the freemasons and witches say, at all. <https://www.sheila.media/?s=organ+trafficking> Even coming from them, it's an insult.
